Items of Local Interest

Lenny Miller, of this office always has a lot of old newspapers on hand for sale cheap.

Dave Ross says bygones be will give a ten dollar note to know the fellow who stole his minnows last week.

Next Monday is county court, and a big crowd is expected. Please call and settle, if you owe this office anything. We need it.

A large meteor fell near town Saturday night, which lighted up the sky, and caused many a sinner to begin studying up his little spiel for St. Peter.

The Captain's Idea.

"Say, Captain, are there two I's in the word bachelor?" asked our office devil of the veteran type, Capt. White. "No, my son, but there are more than two bachelors in it."

Take Degrees.

Rev. C. M. Chumbley, J. W. Sweeney and F. P. Frisbie went to Danville Monday night, where they received the Masonic degrees of Mark Master, Past Master and most Excellent Master. They will return for the Royal Arch next week.

No, it's no trouble to take the morning train if you will telephone Alex Miller and have him call for you. His new closed carriage keeps out the cold and rain. Rates low.

Go to Louisville.

Danville Advocate: Mr. Arch McKinney, formerly of the Danville revenue office, has been transferred to the Louisville Internal Revenue District, the change to take effect Monday. He will retain his former position of storekeeper and ganger.

Peter Straub Dead.

Mr. Peter Straub died at his home in Stanford Sunday, and was buried in Buffalo Cemetery Monday. He was well-known to many Lancaster people, who regret his death. Mr. Straub played in Gen. Landrum's regimental band during the civil war.

Hanging at Stanford.

Stanford is fixing to have what most of her sister cities need badly, that is a first-class hanging. The Court of Appeals has affirmed the death sentence given the negro, Jas. Hocker, and the governor will set a date for the execution. Hocker murdered his wife.

Sudden Death at Danville.

H. B. Farris died suddenly at Danville Sunday night. While he had been ill for some time, nothing serious was feared, and his death was quite a shock. He leaves a wife and several children, who have deep sympathy in their great bereavement. "Dee" was a clever man, who made a friend of all with whom he had dealings.

A Fair Proposition.

When taxes are paid the merchant is in the front rank. When the subscription paper is passed he is on it the most and the biggest. When tickets for church or charity are sold he is the heaviest purchaser. When public enterprise is to be carried through he gets to carry the burden. Now, when you have to buy things, don't you think you ought to spend your money with the home merchant?

Same in Lancaster, Too.

There is a time in almost every young man's life, says a wise observer, when he imagines that he is really a warm number. When he grows older and by experience accumulates a small store of horse sense, he views the same class of boys with disgust. He meditates on his past and wonders if he was such a confounded fool. A smart alec is about the most despicable mortal that ever drew a breath, but the law forbids killing them and the people are compelled to just grin and bear their presence in the community.

Paxton.

After a protracted illness, little Josephine Paxton died at the home of her grand-parents, Mr and Mrs Alec Robinson, near Gilberts Creek Tuesday morning. She was in her seventh year, and her happy disposition and sweet face had made many friends who are deeply grieved in her death. Hope of her recovery was had until a few days ago, when a change for the worse came, and she suffered much pain until the little spirit took its flight to the arms of a loving Saviour. The deepest sympathy goes out to the grief-stricken parents, both of whom have been on beds of critical sickness for some weeks.

Watterson in Danville.

Arrangements have been completed for a lecture by Hon. Henry Watterson in Danville on Dec. 6th. The many admirers of the great Watterson are delighted to learn of this arrangement, and will take advantage of the opportunity to hear him. It is seldom the people out in the country have a chance to hear Mr. Watterson, and as such a large crowd will attend it would be well to write Mr. Henry Edmonds, at Danville, and secure seats, as standing room will be at a premium.

Katharine Eggleston, Dec. 11. 31

Circuit Court begins next Monday. The dockets are about as usual.

When you come in Monday, slip an extra dollar into your jeans to give The Record.

Rev. A. R. Moore and family have moved into the Arnold property, on Danville street.

John C. and Joe E. Robinson sold two two car loads of 1350 lb cattle to B. E. Sanders, for Nov. delivery, at $5.60 per cwt.

Rev. C. M. Chumbley and family are moving into the new Presbyterian parsonage. The house is a beauty, and a model of convenience.

Communion Services.

Communion services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at the usual hour. Preparatory services will be held tonight.

Protracted Meeting.

A protracted meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, beginning Nov. 28th. The pastor, Rev. C. M. Chumbley, will be assisted by Rev. W. W. Akers.

Thanksgiving Services.

The Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church Thursday morning at 10:30. Rev. C. M. Chumbley will preach the sermon.

Rev. J. E. Wolford closed a very successful meeting at Gilced, and is now engaged in another at Broadhead, which will continue through this week. There will be no preaching at the Baptist church Sunday, on this account.

Fine Plant For Sale.

Col. W. P. Walton offers the Harrodsburg Democrat plant for sale, and will make interesting figures for the right man. The plant is one of the best in the state, and it is located in a good-paying territory.

Views of Lancaster.

Mr. Fox, the photographer has recently made some large views of Lancaster, the ones taken from hill on Backeye and Danville streets being exceptionally good. If you want a picture of your old home, see him. The cost is small.

Giving Week.

Jones & Turner having sold their grocery store to Mr. Curtis, Mr. Jones will leave shortly for the west in hope of improving his health. Mr. Jones has not been well for some time, and believes the trip will benefit him. We trust he will soon return sound and all o. k.

Honors For Garrard Men.

The National Fox Hunters Association had a delightful meeting at Bowling Green, which was largely attended. Mr. Ed. Walker, of this county, who is one of the most widely-known hunters in the country, was elected president, and Woods Walker, also of this county, was made a director. Well-known hunters from all over the United States were present.

Mr. Becker Sells Interest.

Mr. C. C. Becker, the hustling Bryantsville merchant, has sold a half interest in his large store to Will Glass, to take effect Jan. 1, and the two will continue to run a first-class store, in every respect. They are both fine business men, and will continue to keep abreast of the times. We have just printed a lot of circulars in which Mr. Becker offers some rare bargains for the next thirty days.

The Crab Orchard Bank.

Crab Orchard has fallen into the line of progress and established a State Bank. The institution is capitalized at $15,000 with the following officers: J. Harve Collier, president; W. E. Perkins, vice president and William Morris, Cashier. The board of directors is composed of some of the most substantial men in Lincoln county. They have begun the erection of a building 28x40 feet on the east side of Main street, the building is to be a substantial brick with glass front and will be ready for occupancy and the institution will begin business January 1st, 1903.

Mr. Dunn Retires.

Mr. J. X. Dunn last week sold his large stock of merchandise, at Bryantsville, to Messrs. R. H. and W. A. Pettus. The stock invoiced about $4,500, and price paid was about eighty-five per cent of this amount. They also bought the store house and lot for $3,025.25. R. D. Ballard bought the home place at $1,250, and Mrs. H. C. Sadler purchased the other residence at $350. Mr. Dunn will leave about the first of the month for Roswell, New Mexico, where he will engage in the fruit business. His business at Bryantsville was all that one could wish, but ill health compelled him to make the change. Mr. Dunn is a fine business man, and a splendid citizen. The Record joins his many friends in wishing success in his new field. The Messrs. Pettus, who take the stand, are splendid citizens and business men of much ability. They will run an up-to-date business, and maintain the high reputation of the house.

Good Servants.

Mr. T. B. Long, who left Friday for Clinton, Mo., took with him four of the colored servants who worked at the Garrard. They were the faithful old porter, Bob McSpaden, George Tervis, the bell boy and two cooks, Laura Mullins and Laura Embury. They were about the best servants in town, the kind that are hard to find.

Handsome Monument.

The Garrard County Marble Works has just completed and put up a handsome monument in the Lancaster Cemetery, on the Perkins lot. It is made of dark Barre granite, beautifully carved, and has an unusually handsome carved cap. This firm is doing good work, and you should give them an opportunity to bid on your work. See ad elsewhere in The Record.

Mr. Gaines Sells Interest.

Danville Advocate:—Mr. G. S. Gaines yesterday sold a half interest in his livery and transfer business, on 4th street, to John T. Reid. Mr. Reid is a well-known business man of Normandy, Spencer county, and will move with his family to Danville about December 1st. The firm will be known as Gaines & Reid.

Thanksgiving "Exchange."

The Ladies of the Baptist Aid Society will have an exchange in the post office on the day before Thanksgiving. All kinds of salads, breads, cakes, and in fact anything you need for your Thanksgiving dinner will be on hand, and at cheap prices. The ladies are striving to raise money to assist in paying for repairs on their church, and you will do a noble act by patronizing them.

A splendid assortment of rubbers at Joseph's. Get a pair before you contract a cold.

Pass This In Your Hat.

As predicted in last issue, the night passenger trains were taken off the Rowland branch, and will run to Livingston. The service we have is as follows: Passenger train No. 10 leaves Rowland every morning except Sunday and passes Lancaster at 5:24, reaching Cincinnati at 10:30 a. m. This train makes close connection at Winchester for Lexington, and also for Louisville, reaching the Falls City at about 10 a. m. Passenger train No. 11 leaves Cincinnati (Fourth St. station) at 2:55, and runs to Rowland, passing Lancaster at 8:20 p. m. You can leave Louisville at 2 p. m., come via Lexington and make close connection with this train at Winchester. In other words, you can have four hours in either Cincinnati or Louisville, or stay in Lexington all day and return to Lancaster at 8:26. The day mixed train will arrive here at 10:25 a. m., and leave for Rowland at 10:40 a. m., making connections with trains for Louisville and the south. A splendid feature of the new service is the mixed train from Rowland will not wait, but come to Lancaster as soon as the train from Louisville arrives, putting the mail here at 2:05 in the afternoon instead of nearly four o'clock as formerly. There will be no wait at Stanford, the Lancaster train pulling out immediately after the Louisville train gets out of the way.

When in Cincinnati, remember the trains don't leave the Grand Central depot, but depart from the FOURTH ST. STATION, which is one square above and about two squares further out than the Grand Central. The L. and N. out of Louisville leaves the depot at First and Water streets at 2:00 p. m., daily except Sunday. You come on this train to Lexington, change to the C. & O. for Winchester and there take the Lancaster train. There's no wait at either place. No's. 10 and 11 carry mail and express. In going to Cincinnati you change cars at Paris, but as the Cincinnati train is standing alongside the Lancaster train, this is no trouble to do. You also change at Paris in returning from Cincinnati. The mixed trains have no mail clerk, but a pouch is sent out on the train to Stanford and one is brought back in the afternoon, giving us the same mail service. We presume the Louisville afternoon papers will be sent around by Winchester, which will give them to us the same day of publication. There will be no mail opened on Sunday, and if you want your paper, you must be at the post office Saturday night when the mail is opened. The change, on the whole, is not so bad, and we believe the people will like it all right. The company is doing all it can for our benefit, and the continual pulling at the officials by Lancaster people has not been in vain.

Trains	Time
Leave Lancaster	in effect Nov. 16
No. 10	For Richmond, Winchester, Lexington, Frankfort, Louisville, Crutcher, Paris, Carlisle, Maysville, Covington, Cincinnati, etc.
No. 21	For Stanford, Junction City, Lebanon, Louisville, Crab Orchard, Mt. Vernon, Livingston, London, Corbin, Middletown, etc.
No. 22	For Richmond and intermediate stations
No. 11	For Stanford, and way stations
Trains run daily except Sunday. Above is LEAVING time. No's 10 and 11 stop at all stations when flagged.
A treat is in store for those who love interpretive recitals of meritorious classic and current literature. Miss Katharine Eggleston will appear at the Court House Dec. 11.

To Correspondents.

Please send in your favors a little earlier next week, as we will send the paper out Wednesday night, in order that all hands may put in Thursday giving thanks that they still have soul and body together.

Better Service.

We have arranged to have regular letters from Bryantsville and Paint Lick, and engaged correspondents who will endeavor to send us all the news from these bustling little cities. We give special attention to our county correspondence, as we believe that is what a rural paper is for. We have the best and most faithful corps of writers in the state, and THE RECORD is often complimented on this point by newspaper men.

A Splendid Entertainer.

The monologue play given by Mr. Barker at the court house Monday night, was attended by a small crowd, but those present enjoyed it very much. He is a splendid impersonator. Through the kindness of Mr. W. J. Homer, the piano man, of Danville, the orchestra was enabled to play, Mr. Homer coming over to lead. His kindness is appreciated by those in charge of the entertainment, and by the members of the orchestra also. The "popularity" vote resulted in M. D. Hughes as the best lawyer, R. H. Batson, best merchant and J. B. Kinnaird best doctor.

Absolutely Necessary.

Now that we have a train arriving before midnight, we beg to call attention of the City Council to the need of an are light at the depot, just in front of the mill. There is always a mud hole there, and people coming on the train can not see the walk. This is needed, gentlemen, so please see that it is put there at once. It would not be a bad idea, while on this matter to serve notice on property owners that they must keep the sidewalks and streets free from obstructions. The other night we happened to be coming to town just in front of a drummer, who was lugging two large sample cases. At Northcott's poultry house he ran into the platform which extends over the pavement at that point, and fell about twenty feet, grips going one way and Johnny Drummer the other. He gathered himself up, and, mounting the platform, proceeded to cuss the town, county, state and United States. He commenced at the Mayor and cussed down to the humblest street cleaner, separately and then collectively. Of course that wind-jamming don't amount to anything, but if some fellow plants a suit down on the town, it will then be seen how important it is to keep the street and sidewalks clear.

Col. Billy Burton sold 26 mules to an Atlanta party at $110.

The partridge crop is pretty fair, but not so large as was expected.

For the 'steenth time, the Gilberts Creek post office has been broken into. A few dollars in cash was the amount of booty secured last week.

The turkey crop is panning out well, and Mr. Northcott is buying a great many. See him before selling and he will treat you right.

Those fortunate enough to own hogs are growing quite restless over the continued warm weather. Mr. Forker, however, enjoys the joke.

Sweet Peas.

Miss Levinia Pope sent us a bouquet of beautiful sweet peas, which have been blooming profusely at her home. They were planted last March, and the rapid growth is remarkable.

The post office is open every night for the distribution of the 8:20 train mail. Mr. West is kept at the office until nearly ten o'clock by the change, and Uncle Sam should increase his pay.

Sunday's Paper Tuesday.

The Sunday's Courier Journals reached here Tuesday, and we got our Wednesday's paper yesterday morning. What's the matter, Brer Ford? Can't you yank up a few postal clerks and remind them that Uncle Sam wants his patrons waited upon?

Arrangements were made by the kid football team to play the "second" team of Central University Saturday, but the Danville boys brought over a number of big overgrown farm hands, one of whom could have turned over and spanked all the home urchins, and the latter took their doll rags and left the field.

Contest at Stanford.

Remember the vocal contest to be given at Stanford Thanksgiving night. Lancaster has four entries, whose names are given elsewhere, and its a safe prediction that they will rank at the top in the contest. See Dr. W. S. Beazley, of this city, who will gladly arrange seats.

Will be Closed.

For the past eight years, we have been compelled to come to the office on every holiday by some fellow wanting work that he thought he was bound to have. This is not going to work next Thursday, however, as every one connected with the office will be out of town. So don't come beating in the front door, and saying we are never here. One day's rest in eight years is not asking much.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Lancaster, Ky. Nov. 21, 1902.

SIXTH the "Investment" companies have gone the way all such fakes are bound to go, many are crying, "I told you so," but if investigation were made it would develop that the ones who are using that old thread-bare expression are about as deep in the mud as others are in the mire. It is strange indeed, that the people have such an ungovernable desire to run off after strangers and questionable methods. We can say, without fear of successful contradiction, that had one-half the money lost in foreign speculation been spent in Lancaster, the town would be twice its size in wealth, we would have double the number of successful business houses, the town would be doubly as large, and we know there would be fewer down-hearted citizens who are now paying the fiddler. Its hard to see why there is not a more general desire to help the home man, who spends his earnings here, to assist your neighbor in his struggle, and at the same time keep your money where you can get another chance at it. THE RECORD does not want to criticize our own people, but this is a matter so common in Lancaster that people of other towns are frequently heard to comment on it. Stop it. The first fellow who comes here with a gold brick, tell him the tale you tell your next door neighbor when applied to for a little help, viz: "I'm sorry, but I cannot spare the cash now. Am very hard run." Turn down the gold brick man, and help your neighbor. You may not see as much interest on your investment at home as there appears in the gold brick scheme, but you know the home man will pay you something your town will be benefited, and greatest of all, you are helping the very same man, in most instances, that helped you get what you have. The recent crashes in so many get-something-for-nothing schemes ought to have a tendency to put the people to thinking, and THE RECORD will arise and sing the long-meter doxology when Lancaster people will stand shoulder to shoulder for one another, and tell smooth talking strangers to go 'way back and sit down.

HERE'S a clipping we have had for some time, having forgotten from whose paper we took it. It's certainly full of good truth. "A Kentuckian kneels to none save woman and his God." These proud words of the heroic Crittenden, spoken beneath the monastic shadow of a white-walled Spanish crypt, when ordered by his executioners to receive their fire in a kneeling posture, express in characteristic words and feeling the pride of State, tradition and ancestry; which has ever distinguished the men of our soil. The spirit of pride and defiance seems indigenous to Kentucky. From the highest to the lowest, in by-paths and hedges, it is found and flourishes. The haughty, though poor mountaineer, at the expense of life and limb keeps his honor untarnished, even to third and fourth generation. The equally proud monarch of the Blue Grass values above all things his good name and reputation, and will die in its defense. But in both sections of our fair commonwealth there exists a sentiment that is superior even to family pride, and that is respect and reverence for woman kind. No where are the ladies honored as in old Kentucky. The glamour of mediæval romance yet hovers over our sunny clime, and we feel for the daughters of our State all the chivalrous idolatry that stamped the knights of yore. An exemplification of our respect for family which attracted widespread attention occurred last week in Illinois. A Kentuckian under a non-de-plume, bravely met a felon's death without divulging the secret of his identity for fear of attaching a stigma and bringing dishonor to an honored name. Of such men are our people composed; there may be evil in them, but the good is uppermost.

SOME delinquent to the Winchester Democrat must have just paid his subscription, when its editor penned the following: "The roses bloom but a season, yet they come again. It is thus with our joys. We grow and labor and suffer, catching the fragrance and fruits of happiness just enough to keep them from being common place. If the rose-bush has all blossoms always, there would be nothing about it to admire. If our life was all joy where would be the comparison, and without comparison, the gratification? Barring the shade and the shadow there would be one unvariable desert, an avenscent nothing of joy."

THE Cynthia Democrat was thirty-four years old Saturday, and its clever editor, Jim Allen, is to be congratulated upon the successful manner in which he has managed his excellent paper. Mr. Allen has, however, only been at the helm for the past ten years. THE RECORD quotes the Democrat so frequently that our readers doubtless feel that they know Allen as well as we do. He's a big-hearted, clever fellow, and why some woman, who wants to take a boy to raise, has never captured him is hard to understand.

AL. G. FIELD, the famous minstrel man, is dying. We are always sorry to hear of the death of any one who has tried to bring a little sunshine and fun to the world. There is so much long-faced hypocrisy these days, that a good natured, jolly fellow like Field is truly appreciated. All honor to Field, and to every other man who can find something in the world beside a desire to get all he can, keep all he gets, and never turn a hand toward bringing happiness to others.

A SPECIAL from Delaware, Ohio, says the dean of a large female high school refuses to allow the pupils to wear sweaters, and "the girls are now in arms." The message don't say whose arms, but they must belong to some expert, like Jim Allen, the bachelor lover, of the Cynthia Democrat, as no novice could hug that many girls at once.

TO RAISE money to support his six-year-old son, five dollars admission fee was charged to witness the hanging of

A. L. Redding, in Madison county, Oregon. This is a good one, and if other worthless rooters will go and do likewise, Barnum's circus tent will not hold the crowds.

MT. HEBRON.

Willie Onstott bought a nice buggy horse from John Spratt, price $100. Mrs. F. W. Montgomery bought a sow from Miss Margaret Naylor for $15. Mr. Huffman was in this locality last week buying turnips at 7 cents per bushel.

Mrs. Wm. Humphrey, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Mr. Russell Vanverpool was thrown from a horse last Monday, but not seriously injured.

Mr. Tapp and Mrs. Lizzie Bruner, both of Jessamine, were married at Nicholasville, last Thursday, and drove here to the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. John Eason, where a nice supper was given in their honor. We wish them a long and happy voyage through life.

Ben Onstott and wife, Mrs. Peggie Onstott and daughter, Mrs. Robert Barker, returned to their home in Daviess county, after several weeks' visit with relatives in this locality. Mesdames Blankenship and Birchell, of Burgin, were the guests of Mr. Offie Sherrow and wife, a part of last week. A number from here have been attending the series of meetings at Scott's Fork. Mrs. Peachie Grow and son, Lev, and Miss Sallie Barker, spent from Friday until Sunday with relatives in Jessamine. Miss Jennie Rogers, who has been the guest of Miss Edna Scott, returned home Sunday. Mr. Brumfield, of Jessamine, was with Benj. Dean, Saturday night and Sunday. George Rogers, of Danville, spent Saturday night with his cousins, Messrs. George, Ike and Joe Duncan.

WALLACETON.

J. A. Baker sold a calf for $15.00.

Farmers are feeling real fine over the rain that fell on Monday.

W. O. Anderson has sold his beautiful home and farm here to W. E. Kidd, of Berea, for $4,000 cash.

The shooting of the meteor at seven o'clock last Saturday night, although of short duration, was a beautiful sight, the moon being hid by a black cloud just before making the scene perfect.

J. S. Rutherford, who sold his little farm here a short time ago, will sell his personal property on the 28 inst., and move to Berea for the winter at least.

A veranda is being built to the house here belonging to Jesse Kinnard, thus adding to its already beautiful appearance. John Cade and Thos. Kinnard are doing the work.

Work on the new M. E. church, recently begun here, is progressing nicely except as checked by rain. The building is now ready for the roof and under the direction of Wm. Asher and Henry Elliott, the carpenter's part will soon be done. Everyone pronounces it an unusually strong and substantial building.

CARTERSVILLE.

A very heavy rain fell here Monday and it is hoped it will turn cold on account of peoples hogs getting so fat they are wanting to kill them.

There will be preaching at the M. E. church Sunday by Rev. E. J. Terrill. They are having a nice prayer meeting at the Christian church every Wednesday night.

Mrs. Lizzie Carter is very sick at this writing. Gabe Salter moved from Paint Lick to this place last week. Miss Linda Carter is sick this week. Mrs. Murrell is improving slowly. Miss Jennie Roberts entertained a number of her young friends Sunday afternoon. A very nice crowd attended the prayer meeting at the M. E. church Sunday. Mr. John Carter wife and daughter, Maggie, were the guests of J. T. Sanders Sunday. Misses Gertrude and Cora Roop spent last Tuesday night with Miss Bessie Smith. J. B. Carter has returned from Louisville with his nice lot of winter goods.

MANSE.

There will be a box supper at Beechwood Friday night, Nov. 1st. Everybody invited and the boys should not fail to come as there will be any amount of pretty girls and good baskets there.

The chrysanthemum show given by the Ladies Aid Society at Mrs. Sallie McCormack's was quite a success and a nice surprise was given them, excellent refreshments were served by the hostess in her usual hospitable manner.

There will be an entertainment given at Manse school house by Miss Jennie Wallace's pupils Friday night Nov. 28th. Also a basket supper after the exercises. Entertainment free, all invited. There will be good music and interesting recitations, dialogues, etc.

Oatly Burke has entered Smiths Business College at Lexington. Miss Betsy Woods was at home last week from Kirksville, where she is attending school at Secestr's Institute. Mrs. Tom Palmer, of Lancaster, visited her parents last week. A house party composed of Lincoln and Boyle county young folks have been entertained by Misses Frankye and Bessie Doty this week. Miss Georgia Dunn of Marksburg, has been visiting relatives here.

Don't forget the date, Dec. 6, for Henry Watterson's lecture at Danville.

PAINT LICK.

Sam Parks sold the farm here recently purchased, to Mr. Roberts, making $100 in the transaction.

James Parks has moved to the Park Orchard farm he recently purchased, his son John has moved to the old homestead.

The members of the Fork church have employed William Anderson, of color, to re-hy the wall and steps around the church in cement. This will be quite an improvement.

The entertainment given last Friday evening by Miss Katherine Moore's pupils, was quite an enjoyable affair. The children were well trained and recited a number of amusing pieces. Music was furnished on guitar and violin by Messrs. Tom Moore and Will Marksburg. One enjoyable feature of the entertainment was the whistling solos by Master Robert Moore.

Miss Mary Thompson, of Lancaster, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Lulu Simpson. Mrs. Margaret Naylor, of Lancaster, is visiting relatives here. Miss Georgia Dunn has returned from a visit to Paint Lick. Mrs. J. C. Eubanks and baby, Annie Lee, of Hubble, spent part of last week with her mother, Mrs. Bell Perkins. Master Elmer Wood spent last week with his grandfather, Mr. T. D. Chestnut Hodgeville. Miss Aggie Boone and niece, of Bettis, were among the visitors at the Fork church Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Perkins and little son, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kemper in Danville. Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Chestnut and daughter, Miss Mary, of Hodgeville, were entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Borer. Mrs. John Greenan, of Hustonville, is visiting her sister, Miss Jennie Swape.

PAINT LICK.

N. W. Champ is improving his dwelling by erecting a new front.

The Y. M. C. A. meets at the hall every Sunday afternoon at half past three.

Mrs. Pattie Engleman bought of Jack Adams, his house and lot for $1,250.

Drinking water has been so bad at this place that a great number of our people had to carry water a mile or so.

It was reported that we had a case of small pox in our town, but we are glad to say it was nothing more than roseola.

James C. Rucker, of Stonegar, Va., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rucker. Mrs. Joe Arnold and little son, Eugene, of Richmond, are guests of her sister, Mrs. Annie Adams. Dr. P. M. Walker has located at this place. Will Tabor is at home having resigned as manager of the Blue Grass grocery at London. Ed Anderson is on the sick list. Mrs. Pattie Engleman and little daughter, Margaret, have returned from a visit to her brother, J. N. Adams at Boneville. Mr. John Parks, who has been quite sick is able to be out. Mrs. A. E. Stridge is visiting her mother, Mrs. McQuirer at McQuirer. Mrs. Jas. Maret and sisters, Mesdames Mattie and Lena Lawrence, of Mt. Vernon, are the guests of Mrs. John Smith. S. H. Mount visited his family at Junction City Saturday and Sunday.

IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

Henry Watterson Courier-Journal Announces a New Policy.

During Three Decades the Louisville Courier-Journal has stood unalterably and conspicuously before the public as the representative of the great commonality of the people against both the Robber Baron, seeking through the accretion of ill-got money to steal away the people's liberty by stealing away their franchise rights, and the ready tool of the Robber Baron, the politician, masquerading as a Statesman and a patriot the better to serve the ends of his master. In fulfilling this high function it has sometimes had to go fast and sometimes to go slow, sometimes to cry "onward," and sometimes to cry "halt," sometimes to drive ahead, but never changing the directions of its movement and always true to the underlying principle of its being, expressed by the simple demand for "The Greatest Good to the Greatest Number."

With the advent of the New Year, that is on the first of January, 1903, the Courier-Journal began a campaign from which it looks for commanding results, and the better to reach the objects it has before it, the twice-a-week edition, returning to the old Weekly Courier-Journal, which for a quarter of a Century was literally a political bible to millions of Americans who knew they could trust both its prescience and its disinterestedness.

The new Weekly Courier-Journal is modern in every respect, and is a paper for the home. It is issued every Wednesday, and its ten or twelve eight-column pages are filled with the best work of the best writers. The price of the paper is $1 a year, in advance, and it is well worth it.

By a special arrangement with the publishers of the Courier-Journal you can get that paper and the CENTRAL RECORD one year for only $1.50.

Mrs. W. O. Bradley and daughter, Miss Christine, have returned from Cincinnati.

Misses Kate Kinnaird and Mary Gill have returned from several days' shopping in Cincinnati.

James Gaines and wife, of Livingston, are visitors of Mr. Ben Gaines, who continues the same.

Stanford Journal.—Mr. J. R. Thurmon, of Garrard, spent several days with the family of Mr. J. W. Perrin.

Mrs. Denton, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Kinnaird, has returned to her home in Somerset.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Loeckey are being congratulated upon the arrival of a handsome son, who arrived Sunday.

Miss Martha Hume, who was the guest of Mrs. Banks Hudson, returned to her home in Lexington, Thursday.

Mr. Richard Kennedy, who has been with his sister, Mrs. Banks Hudson, has returned to his home in Lexington.

Mrs. Jack Kemper, Mrs. Minerva Biddow, of Danville, and Mrs. Ophelia Dunn, spent Thursday with Mrs. Ed. Perkins.

Mrs. Joe Arnold, of Richmond, and Mrs. Pattie Engleman, of Paint Lick, were guests of Mrs. Geo. T. Farris, Monday.

Mr. Alex West and little Miss Sueanna Lear visited Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Denman, of Nicholasville, Saturday and Sunday.

Friday's Advocate.—Miss Theodore Hemphill, of Lancaster, will arrive this afternoon to be the guest of Miss Mayne Lillard for several days.

Mr. S. C. Denny has been confined to his bed for the past ten days, suffering from a stubborn attack of pleurisy. He is much better today, and we trust the clever gentleman will soon be back at his post in the National Bank.

Mrs. A. H. Rice has been elected chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the United Commercial Travelers, Nashville Council. Mr. and Mrs. Rice are keeping house in Nashville, as that is nearer the center of his territory, which embraces several states.

Danville Courier.—Mr. Noel Jean, of the Revenue office force, received last Saturday from his son, Dr. George Jean, who is stationed with the army forces in the Philippine Islands, two Filipino hats. They are curious and attracted a great deal of attention.

Mr. Harry Robinson, secretary of the D. and D. Institute, of Danville, spent Sunday with his parents, Tommy Robinson and wife. He tells us he is getting along nicely and likes his new position very much.

Lexington Leader.—Mrs. C. K. McGugin, of Howard Ohio, arrived today for a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. G. Dunlap, of Davidson Court. Miss Gussie Kennedy will spend Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. Hudson, of Lancaster.

Messrs. W. J. Romans and K. F. Postel are in Cincinnati this week attending the convention of the Tri-State Vehicle and Implement Dealers' Association. The Association embraces a membership of 3,900 dealers in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky from which it derives its name.

Danville News.—Miss Alberta Anderson and Miss Walker, of Lancaster were in Danville Wednesday shopping. Mr. Thomas Elson left Lancaster for a few days. He will leave for a week's visit to his mother, Mrs. J. O. Elson, in Lexington, Md., where he will visit his mother and a sister, Miss Elson. Mrs. Robert Harding gave a dinner to a few friends on last Tuesday evening complimentary to Miss Morris, of Tennessee.

Ashtabook, Frank, of Lexington, was here yesterday.

Mrs. Maria Gregory and Miss Lucy Gregory have returned from North Carolina, Fla.

Mrs. Alex Beazley and daughter, Miss Mattie, of Crab Orchard, are visiting Dr. W. S. Beazley.

Charley Walker is baggage master on the new passenger trains. "Mc-Kee" makes a good snasher.

Misses Stella Adams and Bessie Dunn, of Whites Station, have been the guests of Miss Rozella Gully this week.

The Lancaster entries in the vocal contest to be held at Stanford Thanksgiving night, are Misses Theo Hemphill, Bessie Hutton, Messrs Willie Fox Logan and Charley West.

Danville News.—Miss Theo Hemphill, of Lancaster, spent from Friday until Sunday with Miss Mamie Lillard, Broadway. Mr. Ben Herndon, of Lancaster, passed through Danville Sunday enroute to Lawrenceburg, where he is stationed in the Revenue service.

The entertainment by Miss Katharine Eggleston at the court house, on December 11th, will be the event among society folk, and already seats are being spoken for. Miss Eggleston has a national reputation, and those "up" in literature are familiar with her ability.

"Harridge," writing from Washington to the Danville News, says: "Millard West, a former Garrard county statesman, now employed in the Internal Revenue Bureau, was recently promoted by Commissioner Yerkes from $1,000 to $1,200 per year. Millard is making a splendid record not only as an industrious, accurate clerk, but as a splendid young man from every standpoint. Some body said the other day that Millard had almost induced a certain party to believe his way—in which case that extra two hundred would come in powerful handy. But I know nothing at all about the truth of this statement."

Richmond Register.—Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Rice entertained the following guests at a delightful six o'clock dinner Wednesday: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beegs, Misses Sue Deatherage and Bessie Turley. The house was decorated with Christmas decorations and mistletoe and the table was an extremely pretty one. It was in every respect a most delightful entertainment.

Lexington Democrat.—Misses Mattie Elkin, of Lancaster, and Mary Welsh, of Nicholasville, spent yesterday with Mrs. E. P. Moritz at the hotel. Mrs. E. P. Potts contemplates in the next few days a visit to her son, Mr. George D. Potts, proprietor of the Stanton House, Chattanooga. Miss Mary George may accompany her. Mrs. George W. Dunlap, who went to Colorado two years ago for the relief of pulmonary trouble, still lingers in a feeble state.

News was received here Monday of the death of Miss Fannie Wallace, which occurred in New Mexico. Miss Wallace left here a few months since to do missionary work in that country, and while thus engaged was stricken by yellow fever, which soon caused her death. The nature of the disease prevented bringing the body home, and the interment took place there. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wallace, of the Paint Lick neighborhood, and was a young lady of fine education, and many other accomplishments.

Miss Fannie Austin, who recently went from here to the Barnard Sanitarium, at Martinsville, Ind., entirely disabled by a severe attack of rheumatism, writes that she has completely recovered and will spend a few weeks with her aunt, at East St. Louis, before returning to Lancaster. She desires through our columns to express her grateful acknowledgments and heartfelt thanks to the kind friends whose generosity made it possible for her to avail herself of the treatment which effected her prompt and speedy cure, and to assure them that she will never forget nor cease to appreciate this great kindness to her.

PREACHERSVILLE.

J. P. Rogers bought a calf from Gid Rothwell for $13.

J. J. Thompson is having his residence painted and papered, which is adding greatly to its appearance.

Dave Thompson stuck a knife in his leg, which has been giving him much pain, though he is improving.

The meeting at the Methodist church here proved a great blessing to the membership. Rev. J. D. Thurman who has been assisting the pastor is a good preacher, and a man of power.

John L. Kennedy has moved into his new house, which he has almost completed. Mosie Hutchins, who married last week, and his wife are visiting relatives here for a few days.

Mr. Stith and family, of Broadhead are visiting Mr. J. P. Morris, of J. O. Robinson and father, of Stanford, was here last week looking after his farm. Mr. Holtzclaw and wife were visiting friends at Hubble, Sunday. Mrs. Garner and daughter have been visiting Mrs. Dave Thompson. D. M. Ebnore and wife, of Stanford, are visiting the family of E. Foly. George Brown went over to Lancaster on business Saturday.

W. C. T. U.

Notices of Interest to The Good Ladies Who Fight The Rum Traffic.

The W. C. T. U., under the skillful management of Mrs. Katie Campbell, is in a flourishing condition. They follow a regular program every week, the different ladies taking turn in conducting the meeting. Last Saturday the subject "The Economics of the Liquor Traffic," was ably handled by Mrs. Dr. Kinnaird, and the meeting was mutually interesting. Below are some of the facts in regard to the use of tobacco.

We will suppose that a person smokes two five-cent cigars per day (and being a good man does not use it on Sunday.) This would amount to sixty cents per week or thirty-one dollars and twenty cents per year.

For convenience in calculating, say thirty dollars per year; this makes about eight cents per day the year around, counting Sundays. Now should this person, in the place of spending his money as indicated, place thirty dollars on interest each year at six per cent, payable annually:

At the end of 5 years he would have, $ 109.00

At the end of 10 years he would have, 285.29

At the end of 15 years he would have, 508.25

At the end of 20 years he would have, 787.00

At the end of 25 years he would have, 1,121.00

At the end of 30 years he would have, 1,510.00

At the end of 35 years he would have, 1,954.00

At the end of 40 years he would have, 2,454.00

To get a little idea of what this same amount of money would do, if spent in some other direction, we will suppose that the thirty dollars was spent for bread, six loaves for twenty-five cents; we find it would buy 720 loaves, or make one continuous loaf 720 feet long. The amount spent in five years, if it were invested in bread, would buy 4,225 loaves, or make one nearly a mile long. The amount spent in ten years, invested in the same way, would buy 8,450 loaves, or make one loaf almost two miles long; twenty years, 16,900, or one loaf almost five miles long; thirty years, 25,350, or make one loaf over eleven miles long; forty years, 33,800, or one loaf over twenty-two miles long; fifty years, 42,250, or one loaf over forty-one miles long.
